Are you in your second year at university studying a STEM subject?

Your country needs you! We need top graduates to improve the quality of teaching of STEM subjects in schools, to inspire more children to study these subjects at university and go on to have STEM related careers.

Interested? Undertake a 4 week internship in an outstanding secondary school and be paid £300 per week! The programme will include:

- A special project relating to STEM teaching in secondary schools
- Lesson observations and teaching experience
- A professional development programme to give you a flavour of teaching in secondary schools
- Support beyond the programme for anyone wanting to apply for a PGCE programme
